From the Director

Dear OLLI Members,

We're about to kick off another exciting year at OLLI at UNL—and I'm thrilled about what's ahead! This past year was one of our best ever, with record-breaking membership, strong enrollments, and outstanding courses, events, and travel opportunities. Thank you for helping make it all possible.

At the National Osher Conference this spring, I saw firsthand how OLLI at UNL stacks up—and I'm proud to report that we're doing as well (and often better) than most programs across the country.

As we move into a new year, we're committed to keeping OLLI one of the most affordable programs in the nation. For the fifth straight year, we are not increasing membership or course fees.

At the same time, we're managing growth thoughtfully, planning to add a program assistant to help support our expanding membership and statewide programming. One area where we've seen significant cost increases is in producing and mailing the printed course catalog.

In 2024–25, our catalog production and mailing costs rose nearly $4,000 over the previous year. Each printed catalog now costs almost $2.50. To help manage these rising expenses, we're making a few changes to the printed catalog:

- ▶ Course descriptions have been reduced in length.
- ▶ The format will change slightly to utilize the page space better.
- ▶ A QR code will be added to the catalog so you can easily view full course descriptions, photos and artwork.

We know how much many of you enjoy flipping through the printed catalog, and we'll continue to offer it. But if you're open to going digital, you'll help us keep OLLI sustainable and affordable for everyone.

We urge you to consider opting out of the printed catalog and using the full-color online version instead. To indicate this choice, select "Go Green" in your student profile in the online registration system.

Thank you again for your enthusiasm and support. I can't wait to see what we'll discover together this year!

Stay Curious,

Bob Michl, Director
OLLI at UNL

Experts will examine policies, conservation strategies, and scientific advancements aimed at securing water resources for future generations. Grand Canyon’s Geologic History

The early geologic histories of the Grand Canyon and the state of Nebraska (hundreds of millions of years) are quite similar: Sediment accumulated as both areas slowly subsided. But the Platte River couldn’t cut a canyon because the Great Plains didn’t get uplifted. Those early sediments that were deposited by shallow seas are now far below our cornfields. Modern coral reefs and desert dunes provide modern analogs for the beautiful rocks.

The Geologic Record of Climate Change

Carbon dioxide (CO₂) is a greenhouse gas. Carbon has been cycling through Earth's rocks, oceans, glaciers, plants, and atmospheres for hundreds of millions of years. Could "little ole humans" really be changing the Earth's climate? Much of the CO₂ emitted by volcanoes is captured by plants via photosynthesis and then returned to the atmosphere when those plants die and decay. Burning fossil fuels releases CO₂ much faster than volcanoes and is rapidly warming Earth's atmosphere.

How Does Our Consciousness Stream?

We often use metaphors based on fluid liquids to describe our personal experiences.
